

I wake up at 6 and put my clothes on
Am going to school, heck! Forgot my French book “Hi, I’m fine and you?” big false smile is on
New shoes, black T-shirt, you’ve got the good look
They say. “Thanks but I don’t care what you think”
I would like to shout who I really am
Mend your bloody face with my new blue ink
Do you remember what said William?
“To be or not to be that is the question”
I am a fighter against passing time
My life needs delight, adventure, action
I rest lonely after dinner time
That is what I want, that is who we are,
Little soldiers in a hard mental war.

Marion Errard, Eléa Chavent- 16 ans-
Classe de 1ère L, Lycée du Mont Blanc.

Professeur : Sandrine Briot, Lycée du mont Blanc