

*Sometimes I feel used
Sometimes I feel new
Sometimes I am lost
Sometimes I am confident*

*I wonder why am I so complicated
Why I hate every part of myself
Why can't I understand a single word I say
I wonder if one day I will be sure of myself*

*And now I am used to hide myself
My face under make up
My body under large clothes
My personality under hypocrisy*

*I wonder why am I so complicated
Why I hate every part of myself
Why can't I understand a single word I say
I wonder if one day I will be sure of myself*

*But now everything's gonna change
I'm gonna be myself cause I don't need to hide my face
I'm gonna find my lost confidence and live peacefully, simply and happy*

*I wonder why am I so complicated
Why I hate every part of myself
Why can't I understand a single word I say
I wonder if one day I will be sure of myself*

*I wonder why am I so complicated
Why I hate every part of myself
Why can't I understand a single word I say
I wonder if one day I will be sure of myself*

By Juliette Duchaine, 14 years old, CFBL (London)

English teacher: Camille Minne, CFBL